ALERT!

Enormous Development Projects - Major Construction Impacts on the Community!

In 2005 and 2006, there will be an enormous amount of development underway in a small area - 59th to 62nd Street, West End Avenue to Amsterdam Avenue. (See pages 2, 3 and 4 ).

The issues of safety and health during demolition/construction are of paramount importance. There is a critical need for monthly meetings at which residents affected by the construction can have their concerns addressed.

The affected residents need to know:

1. How will each company implement its planned demolition/construction?
2. Where appropriate, what is the plan for asbestos removal on a site?
3. How will each company protect the safety of nearby residents and school children during demolition/construction?
4. How will the construction affect the traffic flow?
5. How will the trucks containing construction material enter and exit the sites?
6. How will the community be able to prevent the obstruction of sidewalks and streets?

We strongly urge Community Board 7 (CB7) to once again create a "Construction Oversight Task Force". The Task Force would hold monthly meetings in which the construction company representatives, plus representatives from the 20th Police Precinct, the Department of Transportation and the Department of Buildings would address issues raised by the affected residents.

CB7's Riverside South Task Force, which met during the construction of five of the Riverside South buildings, was very helpful to residents.

Please call CB7 at 212-603-3080 and request the immediate establishment of the Task Force or send an e-mail to: office@cb7.org or write to CB7 at 1865 Broadway (4th fl.), New York, NY 10023.

Update on Ramp Closing Lawsuit

● October 18, 2004, New York Supreme Court Justice Ling-Cohan ruled that before closing the 72nd Street northbound off-ramp a new Environmental Impact Statement had to be prepared.

● December 2004, the City and Hudson Waterfront Associates appealed that decision to the NYS Appellate Court and an Amicus Brief was filed by the Riverside South Planning Corporation* supporting their appeal.

● January 18, 2005, the City Club of New York - one of the oldest civic organizations in the City of New York - filed an Amicus Brief supporting Judge Ling-Cohan's decision.

● On February 10, 2005, the NYS Appellate Court heard the appeal. The oral argument was very brief.

We await the court's decision and will keep you informed.

What Is the Inclusionary Housing Program?

The city's Inclusionary Housing Program allows developers to build bigger than zoning laws permit in exchange for the construction or rehabilitation of affordable housing near the original site.

The number of low-income units built is very small. For example the 24-story condominium at Broadway, W.106th-W.107th St.- which contains 64 apartments, each approximately 1,700 sq. ft.- received the Inclusionary Housing Bonus and built a condominium building was 20% larger than would have been allowed under the zoning. In return, they built a mere 5 low-income apartments of approximately 700 sq. ft. each, off-site.

A bad bargain for the community!

"Why Municipal Art Society Shouldn't Have Endorsed Riverside South"

To The Editor:

"I cringe whenever the Municipal Art Society, on whose board of directors I have had the honor to serve for several decades, is mentioned among the backers of the Riverside South project on Manhattan's West Side (news article, July 26).

"It is a project designed not to benefit those millions of New Yorkers for whom the society claims to act as a watchdog but to provide tens of millions of dollars for the project's developer, Donald J. Trump, and whatever financial entity he happens to be seeking profits for. In an earlier stage of the project it was Chase Manhattan bank, and now it appears to be some strangers from Hong Kong..

"... it strikes me that the occasion is ripe for the Municipal Art Society to re-examine its position."
