CONSTRUCTION INDUSTRY RECOGNITION AWARDS

Seven awards celebrate the best in the RMWB
Construction Industry

The Fort McMurray Construction Association is now accepting sponsorship's for its 1st annual Construction Industry Recognition Awards, to be presented at the March 31, 2016 luncheon.

Whether through innovation, environmental performance, safety, or community leadership, the awards celebrate the best in the construction industry in the Regional Municipality of Wood Buffalo. These awards are open to any member in good standing of the Fort McMurray Construction Association.

The FMCA Construction Industry Recognition Program is a fantastic way to celebrate the outstanding performance of our industry firms, associations and individuals across the RMWB. Each year we will receive nominations that showcase the exemplary work being done in our industry, on projects across the RMWB. These awards help highlight the excellence our industry has to offer.

There are 7 awards available for sponsorship:

- Green Building Culture Award
- Outstanding Safety Culture Award
- Outstanding Woman in Construction Award
- Project Achievement Awards (3 categories)

CANADIAN CONSTRUCTION ASSOCIATION

CCA Article: Investment in Canada's Infrastructure Has Not Kept Pace with National Needs - It Must!

For over 20 years the Canadian Construction Association in collaboration and partnership with many other regional and national stakeholders has been pursuing changes in federal public policy to help modernize Canadian's aging infrastructure. Why? Because it is imperative that the general public become educated about the state of Canada's deteriorating infrastructure and its impact on our economy and by extension our collective quality of life. ## SAFETY

Intersection safety

For drivers:

- When approaching an intersection or crosswalk be alert for pedestrians.
- Watch for vehicles stopped or slowing in the lane next to yours. They may be yielding to a pedestrian.
- Stay alert and slow down on residential streets and through school and playground zones.
- Failing to yield to a pedestrian in a crosswalk carries a fine of $776 plus 4 demerit points.

For pedestrians:

- POINT, PAUSE, and PROCEED. Be alert at intersections and always look out for danger when crossing the street
- Always use crosswalks and pedestrian-activated signals when they are available and cross only at intersections if they are not.
- Never jaywalk. Drivers are not anticipating pedestrians crossing in the middle of the street so they may not have enough time to avoid hitting you.
- Make eye contact with drivers before you cross the street.
- Be seen! Wear bright colored or reflective clothing especially when walking in low light or poor weather conditions.
- Walk on the sidewalk. If there is no sidewalk, walk off the road, facing traffic, staying as far away from the vehicles as possible.
- If you are impaired, seek assistance and alternative transportation. Alcohol is often a factor in serious pedestrian collisions. On average over one-third of pedestrians in fatal crashes and 15 per cent in injury crashes had consumed alcohol prior to the collision.
- Pay attention! Remove headphones; put away cell phones or other electronic devices when crossing the street.
- Abide by traffic signs and signals. They are in place to protect your safety.
