

The Magician

Lot 14

California Red Blend

13.9 alcohol .68 Total Acidity 3.7 ph California

Enjoy the pleasure of tasting Grapes that you may never have heard of Cabernet Dorsa and Maxime Rouge

“The universe is full of magical things patiently waiting to be discovered.”

The Wine: Dark red fruits, oak and exquisite spices. This wine is complex. Extremely light tannins. Crisp and surprisingly fresh and easy to drink. Enjoy now - but it will taste great for many months to come.

A comment about red blends: Blends are nothing new. They have been around since the beginning of wine. What are Chateau Margaux, Chateau LaTour, Chateau Lafite Rothschild, the wines from the Cote-Rotie, Chateaneuf-du-Pape, Cotes du Rhones, or the Super Tuscans if not red blends? It is odd that most Americans think red blends are inferior to varietals. It is no secret. It may not be what they are selling, but all winemakers know that the blend is always better.

A comment about vintage: The Magician, a California red blend, like Stratton Lummis’s “The Riddler” (a Napa red blend), is multi-vintage because that offers the most combinations for multiple layers of flavors and sophistication. The wine just tastes better, is more interesting and is completely unique. Multi-vintage is nothing new. The most luxurious wine in the world, Champagne, is multi-vintage.

Stelvin Closure • 750 ml • 12 packs