THE TRIUS EXPERIENCE

IT'S TIME TO GET AWAY

“This is Your Time to Spend as you Wish.”

- ❖ Set foot in the cradle of French Canadian civilization by visiting the very place where Quebec City was founded in 1608 by Samuel de Champlain
- ❖ Take an elevator (thank God!) to the 31st floor of the iconic Marie-Guyart building, which offers unobstructed, 360-degree views of not only both the lower and upper towns, but also the mighty St. Lawrence River and even the Laurentians Mountains on clear days.
- ❖ The third-wave coffee shops have reached Quebec City... If you want to have a high-quality, masterfully crafted cup of joe, you'll need to pay a visit to the St-Roch area, and tackle some of the best eateries while acknowledging the historical sights and recent developments along the way.
- ❖ To get the best view of Quebec City, you need to leave Quebec City – just for a few minutes! There's a ferry service between the capital and its adjacent neighbour Lévis, which means that for a handful of change you can cross the St. Lawrence River, sit back, and enjoy the view that unfolds before your eyes.
- ❖ Stretching over a distance of 4.6 kilometres, the historic Quebec City walls hold so many secrets... climb the stairs by Kent Gate and access the top for a self-guided visit of the only remaining fortifications north of Mexico City.
- ❖ The charming streets that surround the Old Port are perfect for strolling and whiling away the hours at antiques stores, art galleries, and sidewalk cafés. The enchanting decor is peppered with historic houses that were once home to the likes of grain merchants and wholesale grocers
- ❖ If you're indeed a foodie yourself, why not take some time to visit Quebec City's busy market? Sample local products such as ice wines, terrines, fresh blueberry juice, maple syrup, and mingle with locals in this waterfront thoroughfare. If the weather is on your side, get a few of your preferred indulgences and head outside for a waterfront picnic near the marina.
- ❖ The funicular linking the lower and the upper towns, more specifically Petit-Champlain to Château Frontenac, is one of the most quintessential things to do in Old Quebec – that is, if you are keen on avoiding the so-called Break Neck stairs. And no one could blame you for choosing the safe option with a name like that!
- ❖ Fun fact: the funicular starts in Maison Louis-Jolliet, the one-time residence of the man who discovered the Mississippi River.
