

A prophecy declares a small child will decide the victory between two countries paralyzed by war... Both the pursued and pursuers find themselves in life or death situations when they encounter the Greeter, a mysterious being who controls the entrance to parallel worlds populating the labyrinth. It is in these domains they discover clues to end the war—with little Meesha as the secret key to ultimate victory and peace.

<http://www.crimsoncloakpublishing.com/rick-stepp-bolling.html>