Today

"I must work the works of Him that sent me while it is day; the night cometh, when no man can work." John 9:4

Have you ever considered the value of one day? What are you exchanging for the days God has given you? The Bible says that our days are numbered. One writer summed it up like this: "Today comes only once, and will never return."

God has given me this 24 hours to use as I will. I must do something good with this day and not waste it. This is my day of opportunity – and duty. Today I will live with courage and confidence.

What I do today is very important because I am exchanging a day of my life for it. I know that the real cost of something is the amount of my life I send to obtain it.

When tomorrow comes, this day will be gone forever, leaving in its place something I have traded for it. I must not forget the price paid! I get great satisfaction in knowing I have not spent my life in vain – because I gave my life to Christ.
