MEMBER REFERRAL PROGRAM

Seven awards celebrate the best in the RMWB Construction Industry

The Fort McMurray Construction Association is now accepting sponsorship's for its 1st annual Construction Industry Recognition Awards, to be presented at the March 31, 2016 luncheon.

Whether through innovation, environmental performance, safety, or community leadership, the awards celebrate the best in the construction industry in the Regional Municipality of Wood Buffalo. These awards are open to any member in good standing of the Fort McMurray Construction Association.

The FMCA Construction Industry Recognition Program is a fantastic way to celebrate the outstanding performance of our industry firms, associations and individuals across the RMWB.
Each year we will receive nominations that showcase the exemplary work being done in our industry, on projects across the RMWB. These awards help highlight the excellence our industry has to offer.

There are 7 awards available for sponsorship:

- Green Building Culture Award
- Outstanding Safety Culture Award
- Outstanding Woman in Construction Award
- Project Achievement Awards (3 categories)
- Suppliers and Service Award of Recognition
- Trade Contractor Award
- Young Construction Executive Leadership Award

Technology in Construction Survey Request

MBA student Dean Doige is conducting research on the effectiveness of technology investments in the construction industry.

He is seeking owners and contractors who would be willing to fill out his survey. The survey should only take 15 minutes, and your responses are completely anonymous. You can only take the survey once, but you can edit or remove your responses until the survey is closed on Jan 20, 2016. All questions are optional.

If you have any questions about the survey, please email: dean.doige@gmail.com

Please complete the following questions to reflect your opinions as accurately as possible and to answer to the best of your knowledge. Your information will be kept strictly confidential.

You can find the survey here.

The Changing Landscape of Construction Management

Not too long ago, it might have taken someone starting in the construction industry 25 years to climb the ladder to management. In 2015, that career path is obsolete. With a retirement bubble on the horizon and ever more technological innovation, the industry needs construction managers who are ready to go. "Our industry, as maybe a lot of people know, is slow to change," says Paul Charette, former CEO of Bird Construction, a past CCA chair, and an advocate of education in building sciences. "We ought to be able to get students graduating from our post-secondary education system job-ready." Read more

Employers Renew Focus to Tackle Skills Shortage

The findings of the sixth annual Hays Canada Salary Guide paint a rosier picture for 2016, compared to a difficult 2015, with Canada's construction employers optimistic for the year ahead. Read more
